However, once you choose to furnish the Site with personally identifiable information, this information may be linked to the data stored in the cookie.

We use cookies to understand Site usage and to improve the content and offerings on our Site. For example, we may use cookies to personalize your experience at our web pages (e.g., to recognize you by name when you return to our Site) or save your password in password-protected areas. You may choose not to accept our cookies, but doing so may disable some of the features available on our Site. Here are the types of cookies we use and their purposes:

Type of cookies	Purpose
Essential Cookies	These cookies are essential to provide you with services available through our Site and to enable you to use some of its features. For example, they allow you to log in to secure areas of our Site and help the content of the pages you request load quickly. Without these cookies, the services that you have asked for cannot be provided, and we only use these cookies to provide you with those services.
Functionality Cookies	These cookies allow our Site to remember choices you make when you use our Site, such as remembering your language preferences, remembering your login details and remembering the changes you make to other parts of our Site, which you can customize. The purpose of these cookies is to provide you with a more personal experience and to avoid you having to re-enter your preferences every time you visit our Site.
Analytics and Performance Cookies	These cookies are used to collect information about traffic to our Site and how users use our Site. The information gathered does not identify any individual visitor. The information is aggregated and anonymous. Based on that information, and with our permission, third party advertisers can place cookies to enable them to show advertisements we think will be relevant to your interests while you are on third party websites. Anonymous data is information (whether it was originally personally identifiable or non-personally identifiable) that subsequently is used in aggregate form. We may conduct research on our customer demographics, Internet usage, and interests and behavior based on personally identifiable information we gather. Although anonymous data may be based in part on such personally identifiable information, it does not identify you personally. ViewLift may share this type of anonymous data with a variety of third parties, including its affiliates, advertisers and other current and prospective business partners.

We also may use anonymous data for website administration, advertising and promotional purposes, and we may share such information with various affiliated and unaffiliated entities for such purposes. IP addresses also are used to provide anonymous aggregated data to advertisers about the volume of use on the ViewLift Site. Anonymous usage and demographic information also may be shared with our advertisers and business partners.

ViewLift has implemented Google Analytics. We use the data collected by Google Analytics to better understand who our users are. ViewLift will not facilitate the merging of your personally identifiable information with the non-personally identifiable information collected from this feature.

For Enforcement. We may use the information that we collect to prevent illegal activities, to enforce the Site's Terms of Use, and to otherwise protect our rights and the rights of our users.
